Hard work prepares for future fun

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

A gigantic array of poles, plastic and pieces large and small became a state-of-the-art playground at the south end of Elk Point Elementary School this past weekend, as volunteers from the school staff, parents and the community joined two workers from the equipment supplier to put it all together.

"It's like putting together toys on Christmas eve, but on an enormous scale," one of the volunteers said.

About 20 volunteers per day were involved in the project, according to EPE principal Lorne Young. "A few came and went, but about ten were here from start to finish, and that made all the difference. It's unreal how hard these guys worked today."

Approximately $75,000 of the cost of the equipment came from a grant applied for jointly by the Town of Elk Point and County of St. Paul, Young said. "The other $25,000 will be covered by donations and fundraising."

The shiny, new, red, white and blue equipment will be ready for use later this week, and several students who stopped by to watch the construction agreed that they were eager to try it out.

Their enthusiasm is what Young was hoping for.

"We wanted to make sure the Grade 4 to 6 playground was spectacular. They're going to love it. There are swings on the south playground for the first time, and I can see them being very popular."

By the time this installation is completely paid for, "the two playgrounds will come to about $200,000," Young said. "If we can find a way, we're going to support the water play park. We're in the 'kid' business, so we should be supporting that."

Two preteens anticipating future fun keep a close eye on construction of Elk Point Elementary School's new playground on Saturday, as a huge crew of volunteers assist the equipment suppliers' men to assemble the two huge play structures.

Second aggregate for Mohyluk

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Delores Mohyluk repeated her Grand Aggregate win for a second year at the Elk Point Agricultural Society's annual Horticulture and Craft Show and Quilt Exhibition.

Section wins in fruit, house plants, vegetables and baking earned her a fruit basket from Elk Point Co-op, a planter from Woody's Trophy and Gifts, a gift basket from Moe's Greenhouse and a cash prize from B & R Eckels on her way to the championship, where she won a plaque from CJ Petroleum and a cash prize sponsored by the Ag Society.

Millie Orr placed second in the aggregate, and won a gift certificate from the Empress Family Restaurant and a cash prize from Shamrock Valley Enterprises for her wins in the canning and quilting sections as well as a cash prize from the Ag Society.

Third place in the aggregate went to Lillian Balazs, who won a cash prize from Hahn Welding in the senior fair category as well as cash from the Ag Society.

Rhianna Bjorkman was declared the junior aggregate winner, with cash prizes from the Ag Society for junior section wins in flowers and yard art in addition to the aggregate award, and a cash prize from Shamrock Valley Enterprises for her junior fair section win.

Elizabeth Orr qualified for three junior section wins, with cash prizes from the Ag. Society in knitting and crochet, arts and crafts and sewing, as well as winning the Wozniak Bulk Fuels gift certificate for the hay and grains section.

Lisa Love was the winner of the knitting and crochet section, taking home a gift box from Apple Drugs. Violet McFadyen won the flowers section award of boxes from RONA.

Verona Lea Flanders won the arts and crafts and sewing sections, for cash prizes from Elk Point Insurance and B & R Eckels. Jennifer Van der Hoek was also a double winner, receiving a gift certificate from the Elk Point Review for creative writing and a cash prize from Hahn Welding for yard art.

Alexandra Shapka, Katerina Shapka and Joey Cardinal shared the junior creative writing honors. Joey also shared top points in the junior vegetables for a cash prize from the Ag Society, this time with brother Danny, and picked up another cash prize for the junior photography, with his mom, Margaret Bayduza, winning the adult photography section for a gift certificate from Home Town Grocers.

Junior baking honours, and cash from the Ag Society, went to Megan Pierson.

The Ag Society's prize for the beer making section went to Greg Grabowski, while Hahn Welding's cash prize for the wine making section went to John Paquette.

The quilt exhibition was a huge success, with over 50 large quilts and over 60 small quilted items decorating the east half of the arena. Viewers were invited to vote for their favourites, with Misty Smereka winning both prizes for a full size quilt and a table runner.

This year's special exhibition of vintage kitchen linens brought out everything from heirloom tablecloths to sugar sack tea towels, and evoked considerable nostalgia. Next year, organizer Verona Lea Flanders says she will be looking for bedroom linens, from old or handmade dresser scarves and pillowcases to bedspreads and nightwear.

By Cst. John Spaans
Elk Point RCMP Detachment

On July 31 at approximately 11:30 p.m., Elk Point RCMP were conducting patrols on the Frog Lake First Nations when they came across a single vehicle collision involving an off-highway vehicle (ATV). The ATV was traveling on Twp. 562A on the east side of the reserve when it lost control and rolled over. The single male occupant was laying on the roadway for an unknown period of time before being struck by a passing vehicle. RCMP were traveling a short distance behind the passing vehicle and were on scene moments after the man was struck. The 40-year-old resident of Frog Lake was pronounced dead on scene.

Alcohol is believed to have played a role in the initial collision involving the ATV. Investigation into the circumstances leading up to the occurrence is ongoing but the occurrence is believed to be non-criminal in nature.

The male is believed to have been wearing a helmet at the time of the collision.

House fire

On July 31, while RCMP members were on the scene of the previously mentioned collision, a house fire was reported approximately 800 m north of the collision site. The Elk Point Fire Department attended the fire but was required to take a detour due to the roadway being closed for the fatal collision. Investigation into the house fire is ongoing and investigators have ruled out the possibility that the house fire and the traffic fatality are related.

No one was injured during the house fire and the Red Cross has assisted the displaced family.

Stolen Sacred Bundle

On July 31, the Treaty

No. 8 Sacred Pipe Stem Bundle was stolen from its Keeper's residence in Frog Lake. The Sacred Bundle is an important item used at meetings and special events across Canada. Elk Point RCMP conducted extensive neighbourhood inquiries throughout the Frog Lake community in an attempt to locate the Sacred Bundle and learn its traditional and historical significance.

On Aug. 4, Elk Point RCMP along with the Edmonton General Investigation Section received strong leads from the Frog Lake community and located the Sacred Bundle near Beaverdam, south of Cold Lake. The Sacred Bundle was intact and was returned to its proper Keeper under the supervision of community Elders.

Investigation into the matter is ongoing.

Seizure of Crystal Meth

On Aug. 2, Elk Point RCMP received a complaint of a suspicious male wandering in and out of yards on Northern Valley Road south of Elk Point. At one point, the suspect male walked into a residence and was confronted by the homeowner. The suspect left the residence and was located by the RCMP a short time later. The suspect male was extremely agitated and belligerent with members. He was found to be in possession of a quantity of crystal methamphetamine and was believed to be under the influence of that drug. The suspect was transported to the St. Paul Detachment where extra members were available to assist with the male who was becoming increasingly violent. Once calm, the male was examined by a doctor to ensure no injuries were sustained during his erratic behaviour. A 27-year-old Lloydminster male has been charged with possession of a controlled substance and two counts of failing to comply with conditions.

Domestic violence

On Aug. 2 at approximately 6 p.m., Elk Point RCMP responded to a complaint of domestic violence at a residence in Frog Lake. The suspect male is alleged to have punched and kicked his common-law wife multiple times. The female victim required medical attention but her injuries were non-life-threatening. A 37-year-old Frog Lake male has been charged with assault and is due to appear in court on Aug. 6.

Impaired driving

On Aug. 4 at 4:30 p.m., Elk Point RCMP were alerted to a suspected impaired driver driving around Elk Point.

Chamber explores power options

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce met with Rodger Turcotte of Atco Electric at last Wednesday's meeting to learn about power installation options for the EcoCentre.

Turcotte explained the process of net metering. "Basically, two meters are installed, one feeding into and one out of the grid." The chamber is currently applying to take part in the net metering program, and Turcotte indicated he would help to process the application for Atco's approval.

There are "different categories of microgeneration," Turcotte said. The EcoCentre's solar and wind power systems will produce approximately the amount of power required for use in the building, and "typically, the power providers don't want you to produce much more than you use."

The chamber questioned the cost of the power line installation to the site, with a new line being constructed to serve both it and the new fire hall. The chamber learned that the cost estimate had been based on three-phase power, which is not required, and asked if this could be changed to single phase, provided work had not gone too far to make the change.

Other details regarding the EcoCentre were up for discussion later in the meeting, with chamber president Sandy Smith reporting that all-natural insulation is being used in the structure. "We had to go with shingles for the roof, but we will be putting cedar shakes on the upper walls," she noted. The siding on the lower walls is "very green," environmentally.

The centre's solar panel array will be installed with a device that allows it to rotate following the sun. The wind turbine will be installed on a 10-foot mast atop 60-foot tower created of 20-inch pipe that will not require guy wires. The solar heating tubes will cover the south side of the roof and will be combined with an on-demand water heater and a small boiler to serve the hot water heating installed under the floors. A24-inch solar tube is to be installed in the roof of the one-storey section and will provide natural lighting for both offices and the outdoor-access washrooms. Air conditioning "is a no-no," Smith said, "so we're going with a swamp cooler. They're very affordable."

Interior floors will be covered with bamboo flooring.

All components "go with code requirements first, then any green option within our budget, provided it fits the historic picture."

The chamber agreed to order the elevator that will provide barrier-free access to the upper floor and basement for those with mobility concerns.

Got questions?

If you have questions about the EcoCentre, the chamber has answers. They plan to offer information about Elk Point's 'green' project on Saturday, Aug. 15 from 11 to 2 p.m. at the current tourist information centre, along with a toonie pork-on-a-bun, free maps, treats for children and a special deal on both business and individual chamber memberships.

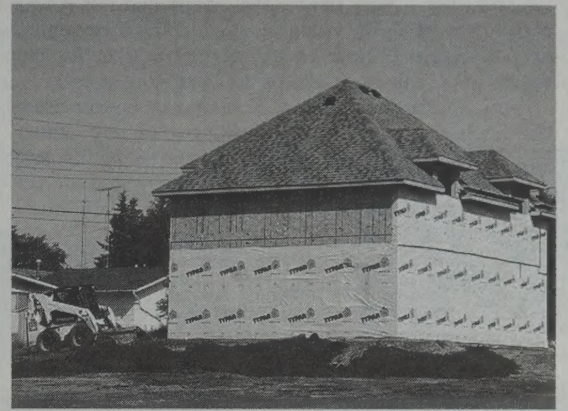

Daycare facility under construction

Melanie Poulin attended the meeting to give the chamber an update on development of the first phase of her Play 2 Learn Daycare. She has been given a temporary permit to start the business in what will eventually become a garage with a loft apartment, and said she will be able to accommodate 18 to 20 children in the facility and its adjoining playground.

"I'll know the timeline (for completion) in the next two weeks," she said, noting that this will allow her to distribute information on the new service at Information Night on Sept. 8.

The permanent and much larger daycare facility will be constructed next year, and Poulin says she feels the facility "will help the town to bring in people."

The small beginning of what may prove to be a thriving business is under construction at the future site of a full-sized Play 2 Learn Daycare facility.

Special groups boost forts' festival attendance

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Fort George and Buckingham House enjoyed their best ever Saskatoon Festival crowd this year, with a total attendance of 249, up from 170 in 2008.

"We were run off our feet all day," said Donna Chamberland, one of the event organizers. Sale of hot food and saskatoon pie were up more than 67 per cent, while concession receipts were almost five times those of last year and the gift shop did a roaring business, taking in more than five and a half times last year's total sales.

Red Hat groups throughout the area had received invitations to the event, and Chamberland said there were "an amazing number of Red Hats here, but only 48 of them took flowers." Seven dozen roses had been purchased to hand out to the Red Hat members.

A number of descendants of fur trade families who had lived at the forts, including the Spence family, were also at the event, following the dedication earlier that day of a memorial to those buried at the site during the fur trade era.

Site supervisor Ross Stromberg said the dedication ceremony "went very well. The group was very diverse, and one lady was a descendant on both sides of her family."

Stromberg thanked Chamberland and her fellow volunteers for their "incredibly heroic efforts" during the festival. Decreased entries in the baking competition, probably due to the late spring which did not allow berries to ripen in time, was disappointing, and Stromberg said, "I'm glad we had a lot of other stuff going on."

Both the Friends of the Forts and the FGBH staff felt it was advantageous to have the special groups on hand for the festival, which also included an outdoor craft show, a saskatoon bake-off and sale and demonstrations by a potter and a glass etching artist. They agreed to seek out other interest groups, such as the Good Sam trailer travel group or geocaching enthusiasts, who would be interested in attending next year's festival.

Overall statistics for the season, up to the end of July, still show attendance lower than last year's, possibly due to the big influx of visitors that came with the David Thompson Bicentennial Canoe Brigade in May 2008. Concession and hot food sales to the end of July were still below 2008 totals, but the gift shop sales are up this year.

Documentary screening

Those who missed seeing Roy and Marjorie Scott in the documentary, "Unforgotten," will have another chance this coming Saturday afternoon, when it will be shown at the Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, starting at 2 p.m.

Jamboree plans underway

The Forts staff are busy planning for the Forts des Prairies Jamboree on Sunday, Aug. 30, with music starting at noon. Potential entertainers are welcome to call the Forts at 780-724-2611 to get their name on the list or to find out more about the event. Tours of the site, children's activities and food are also on the agenda for this popular event, which brings together spectators and performers from across north-east Alberta each year.

The jamboree will be the final big event of the season at FGBH, before the site closes for the year on Labour Day.

Huge effort gets job done

It took two 12-hour days, and then some, but a crew largely consisting of volunteers turned a mountain of materials into a very impressive playground this week-end. Some of those volunteers, including Elementary School principal Lorne Young, who praised the tireless efforts of the others, worked from beginning to end.

Now, that's commitment. Long hours on construction, including heavy lifting, pushing, climbing, crawling and shoveling, is one thing when you're getting paid for it, but quite another when you're doing it from the goodness of your heart, as a contribution to your community and its youngsters.

Every one of the people who gave up their weekend, and some who gave up a day of work as well, to complete that project, deserves the thanks of every child in this community, the thanks of the school division on whose property the playground stands, and the school staff, who know that their students have a first-class playground to enjoy. Great job, everyone!

YOUR VIEWS

Homecoming, high fines and heritage

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF AUGUST 11 IN...

1984

Well over 100 residents paid homage to a variety of ethnic backgrounds and the pioneer history of our district at a Heritage Day celebration in the Elks Hall. Over 200 members of the Zarowny family came from as far away as New York and Las Vegas for a massive family reunion at King George Hall, just a stone's throw away from Casper Zarowny's homestead.

1989

Over 400 people from as far away as California, Minnesota and the North West Territories converged on Lea Park for the Norway Valley Homecoming, an event with a decidedly Norwegian flavour, right down to the last "uff-da." School was still some weeks off when a group of F. G. Miller students started fundraising for $10,000 worth of glass basketball backboards with electric winches, with raking the sand greens at the Oilmen's Golf Tournament as their first moneymaking project.

1994

Elk Point's new dog bylaw had teeth, giving the town the right to impose large fines for dog owners who did not abide by the regulations. Joni Matthews won two national gold medals at the National Legion Camp Track and Field Championships in Ottawa.

1999

The newly formed Midwest Rodeo Association, the brainchild of former rodeo competitors Bob Cook and Keith Sidener, held its first season's finals at Whitney Lake rodeo grounds. Elk Point Community Choir headed off to the Maritimes, where they would entertain on a 10-day tour.

2004

Newly restored Fern Chapel School was rededicated as a tribute to the pioneers in the Ferguson Flats area, with a good number of former students on hand to celebrate the restoration of the structure they had attended between 1913 and 1949. F. G. Miller's Class of 1974 returned to their old stomping grounds to reminisce at a class reunion.

STEPHEN HARPER IS GOING TO TOUR THE ARCTIC AGAIN THIS SUMMER.

BIG DEAL. I'LL BE IMPRESSED WHEN HE DOES IT IN FEBRUARY.

GUEST COLUMN

That's Canada

Over the summer I found a great children's book about Canada I found interesting. In Mike Ulmer's book M is for Maple - A Canadian Alphabet, he is able to say something in a rhyming way about Canada using every letter of the alphabet. I will only quote the highlights for each letter.

A is for Anne - that's Anne with an E - a red-headed orphan who loved Avonlea. (Anne of Green Gables is Canada's most famous book written by Lucy Maud Montgomery in 1908.) B is for Banging, B is for Best, true Canadian heroes whose medical quest gave the world insulin, a new lifesaving way to keep the effects of diabetes at bay. C is for Canada where it once was a must that only a male held a position of trust. But then came Kim Campbell who knew and believed that nothing else mattered but the courage to lead. D means Dionne and five little girls who drew millions of people from all 'round the world. Emilie, Cecile, Yvonne made for three. The set was complete with Annette and Marie.

E is for "Eh," our national obsession for ending each sentence, not with a period, but a question. It's a Canadian habit, as polite as you please, to give every listener the chance to agree. F is a man who in one summer proved he could do with one leg what few could manage with two. Terry Fox never finished his cancer crusade; now we all do the running, and we honour his name. G stands for Grain and the volleys of wheat that ripple through the prairies in the dry, summer heat. H is for Hockey, the game that we play from summer's last whisper to snow's melting away. I is for Islands, with no borders of land, like Montreal, Vancouver and of course, Newfoundland. J is for Justice, brought by horse to the west by the Mounted Police in their fiery red vests. They are known as the Mounties, and they're respected worldwide for the depths of their courage and their Musical Ride.

K is for Klondike and the hunger for gold that drew thousands of miners to the northerly cold. The men made the journey by mule, foot, and teams to pan for their fortunes in the cold running streams. L is for Louisbourg and the garrison that stand as evidence of France colonizing this land. Royal Navy cannons dealt a final defeat; you can still hear their echo in the shops and the street. (Louisbourg is on what is now Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island.) M is for Maple, our national leaf, and the Sugar and the Silver that thrive in the East. N is for Northern, the great Northern Lights, those mystery visions that light up our nights.

O is Ojibwa, just one of the tribes that spanned this vast country before settlers arrived. P is for Peterson and in jazz or in swing, he is musical royalty, the piano's grand king. (Oscar Peterson was a Montreal native.) Q is for Quebec. R is for Rocket - that's Rocket Richard - A Canadiens' superstar with a shot true and hard. S means Stampede and Calgary's the place to see cowpokes and horses and the chuckwagon race.

T means Toronto, a place where they say you can spend a year doing something different each day. U stands for the Underground Railroad which helped American slaves find in Canada the safety and freedom they craved between 1840 and 1860. "V"ictoria in Canada is the most common name for cities and roads all named in her reign. Parks and great mountains and the capital of B.C. are lasting reminders of this long-ago queen.

W is for Wind. X marked the spot where the Last Spike was driven. Y is for Yoho National Park - one of Canada's 39 sites. Z stands for Zipper, which everyone knows is very important in tents and in clothes. A U.S. inventor had a zipperish notion, but it took a Canadian to get the zipper in motion.

Local youth plays on Provincial team

By D. NAZARCHUK
Review Contributor

After the Goodfish Lake Mosquitoes became the Lakeland League champs, they set their sights on provincial. Looking for more pitching, they scouted out Colin Nazarchuk of Elk Point and signed him up.

Starting July 4 in a Beaumont tournament, the boys would split a pair of games, losing to Spruce Grove and then beating up Beaumont 20-3, where Colin pitched and hit a home run.

Next up, they were off to Athabasca, where they would easily win by a 17-1 margin.

On July 11 in Sherwood Park, Colin pitched for a 21-9 win over Satinwood.

They would play Satinwood again and win 23-4.

The final game of that weekend would be an exciting game with Colin coming in to pitch for the final two innings to hold the Sherwood Park lead to four runs. In the bottom of the sixth, down 22-18, our boys would go on to score five runs for the 23-22 win and to become the Tier 1 North Champs with and impressive five wins, one loss record.

The Provincial finals were held in Spruce Grove on July 24, 25 and 26, the five teams coming from Goodfish, Spruce Grove, Coronation, Beaumont, and East Central.

First up on Friday, Goodfish took on the Tier 1 South champion Coronation Royals in a really entertaining game, with Goodfish winning 9-5.

On Saturday at 9 a.m., they met the East Central Bulls. Our boys' bats were on fire, winning 20-9.

On Saturday at 6 p.m., with scorching 34° heat, Goodfish played picture-perfect ball, with good pitching and excellent fielding and ended up with a 9-0 win.

With three wins, this gave Goodfish a guarantee to be in the final, with one game in the round robin left.

Sunday noon saw another 32° day, and Spruce Grove had other ideas about spoiling our perfect 3-0 record. In the first inning, they would score six unanswered runs and in the fourth, the score was 7-2, when with one out and loaded bases, Colin was called to pitch and struck out the next two batters to get us out of the inning. This seemed to get the boys going as they would inch their way back to trail 8-7.

In the fifth inning, Colin would strike out two more and take a line drive up the middle for a throw out to first. In the top of the sixth, the score still 8-7, Colin would again take care of business, striking out the first batter, and taking the next two outs himself. In the bottom of the sixth, with two out, runners on first and second, a line drive up the first base line scored two runs, Goodfish winning 9-8! This makes our round robin record 4-0 which would mean that in the final, the other team would have to beat us twice! Colin would be named Defensive Player of the Game.

Sunday's game at 3 p.m. against Coronation, a team with a 3-1 record, would make for a fitting final as the top team from the North and the South would play off for the Alberta Tier 1 Provincial Championship.

This game did not start out the way we wanted, with some errors and some good hits gave Coronation an early 4-0 lead. Coronation would end up winning the game to set up game two, which would be winner-takes-all.

At 5 p.m., there was some really good pitching on both sides to start off, as well as good defense. After four innings it was 5-4 for Coronation. They would score two more in the third and we could not equalize with runners on base. The score was 7-4 in the sixth inning and we had run out of pitchers, allowing them to score six more and ending up with a 13-6 loss for Goodfish, giving us the Silver medal. It was quite a run, going 9-1 and then losing in the final.

KNOW WHAT TO DO TO FIGHT THE H1N1 FLU VIRUS

The H1N1 flu virus is a respiratory illness that causes symptoms similar to those of the seasonal flu (fever and cough, runny nose, sore throat, body aches, fatigue and lack of appetite).

All strains of flu can be dangerous; however, good infection prevention measures can help protect you and others if this virus begins to spread rapidly in Canada.

- ▶ Wash your hands often and thoroughly—for at least 20 seconds—in warm, soapy water or use hand sanitizer.
- ▶ Cough and sneeze in your sleeve, not your hand.
- ▶ Keep common surfaces and items clean and disinfected.
- ▶ Stay home if you're sick, and call your health care provider if your symptoms get worse.

Playschool gets a Boost!

Lisa Warawa presented a framed class picture to County of St. Paul FCSS Director Tammy Elkow in appreciation of the very generous donation to the Elk Point Jack and Jill Playschool Association. The donation is greatly appreciated and will be used to enhance the playschool program, making it bigger and better. The children will benefit from a wider variety of crafts and educational tools that will promote early childhood learning. The Elk Point Jack and Jill Playschool Association will be starting the 2009-2010 school year in mid-September in the Elks Hall in Elk Point.

Huge support for Weekend walker

Breast cancer survivor Twila Stafford (centre) took two major donations from the Pete Stafford Memorial Golf Tournament with her when she headed to Edmonton Aug. 8 and 9 to take part in the 60 km Weekend to End Breast Cancer. Karen Stafford (right) and Carrie Becker presented a $2,000 donation to the Weekend to End Breast Cancer and a $4,000 donation to the Cross Cancer Institute, while Twila's sons Austin and Jace stood by to wish Mom well in her participation. Funds raised at the Weekend to End Breast Cancer goes toward clinical trials, research and the Cross Cancer Institute.

Federal ministers address local concerns at St. Paul breakfast meeting

By SHAUNA BURKE
Review Contributor

Local MP Brian Storseth, along with fellow members of parliament, Vic Toews, President of the Treasury Board, and Merve Tweed, Chairman of the Transport Committee launched a mini-tour in the Westlock-St. Paul riding, last week, beginning with an informal breakfast meeting at the St. Paul Seniors Centre on Aug. 5. The group was consulting with communities in St. Paul, Bonnyville, Cold Lake and Glendon to hear constituents' concerns and answer questions.

The meeting in St. Paul was attended by a variety of business people, politicians and community members.

"This is something that we try to do every summer. Bringing members of parliament, chairmen of committees and ministers out, to tour our riding, look at some of the projects we have going on and see some of the things we are proud about. They also help me bring your messages back to Ottawa," Storseth explained at the opening of the informal breakfast meeting.

As president of the Treasury Board, Toews shared insights on how the system works, on how the conservative government is addressing economic concerns and on the impact of a minority parliament.

He advised local politicians to work together on large projects rather than competing with one another. "I cannot stress that enough," said Toews. "Small communities working together will get projects done for a specific area. I say this over and over again to mayors, reeves and councillors."

Toews then shared Conservative political views on the current economic crisis.

"As you know, we have been going through a downturn in the economy," said Tweed, adding, the Conservative government believes the best way for government to "spend money is by leaving it in the pockets of locals so that they can make the decisions in order to stimulate the economy."

He said his government is opposed to the creation of a structural deficit, which is a deficit that is ongoing. The recent increase in federal government spending is temporary for the recession in order to meet long-term infrastructure demands.

Toews expressed concerns about the opposition wanting to bring down the current government by pressing for an election this fall. He said the instability of the minority parliament has created uncertainty in the economy in general.

Merve Tweed has worked with Storseth in Ottawa and reported what he has observed how Storseth works in Ottawa.

Editor lauded in limericks

By FAYE SMITH
Review Contributor

Do you know anyone who has been lauded in limerick? Well, if you know Vicki Brooker, you now know someone. For those who don't know what a limerick is, it is a five-line poem.

Vicki is the editor, photographer and all-round person at the Elk Point Review. It was suggested by someone that a few of us might like to enter the Creative Writing aspect of the Elk Point Fair. It was also made known that it would be wonderful if we could all make the limerick about Vicki. Vicki is also the Creative Writing judge at the fair. Imagine her surprise at having to judge the limericks that people had written about her.

It was all done for fun and those limericks about her included the many different years of her life from her reporting to chuckwagon cooking, etc.

Misty Smereka poses with her table runner and full-sized quilt, the two items that caught the eye of most quilt fair visitors on Sunday. Her prize was a collection of more fabric for future projects.

The community's most beautiful roses were on display along with their prize ribbons.

Young yard art creators check out the prize ribbons on their mosaic stools, while another fairgoer in the background checks out the photography section.

A gorgeous array of quilts and smaller quilted items makes a colourful backdrop for an old-style ironing board draped with a heirloom tablecloth and a unique tree filled with vintage potholders and doilies.

Welcome to the 26th Annual

Elk Point OILMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

August 14 and 15, 2009

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's that time again, the Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament is about to commence. On behalf of the Elk Point Oilmen's Association, I would like to send out a warm welcome to all.

There are so many people to thank. Let me begin with our community, which every year, seems to go that extra mile for us to make the atmosphere so enjoyable and comfortable for all. Without the generosity from the many sponsors, donors, volunteers and businesses (old and new), we would not be able to hold such an event every year. THANK YOU SO MUCH!! Let us not forget the Elk Point Golf Course (Ian, Bea and staff). We appreciate the long hours you put into preparing everything for our festivities. Your hard work is and will be noticed in the forthcoming event, thanks to all.

Now to all participating golfers, your scores have all improved from last year. Your fellowship, companionship and camaraderie will be in top form. And the reminiscing of last year to this year will of course be at its best. To the E.P.O.A. golf committee, I know the job you fellows have done and the effort put into this year's function will again do us proud.

In closing, I wish the best to all golfers and non-golfers. Enjoy celebrating with us, our 26th golf tourney. Have fun, but remember, please do not drink and drive for we have shuttle service to accommodate all. We want everybody to get home safely to be able to return next year.

Don Mudryk
President
E.P.O.A.

Storseth

He said Storseth "is a bit of a professional when it comes to the rules, and I can tell you that when Brian comes into any committee... the opposition changes their demeanor because he understands the rules and procedures and if things are moving in a direction that is outside the rules or what we are trying to accomplish, this guy has the ability to reign that in," said Tweed. "I know in your communities you don't see that, but as colleagues we see that."

The presenters then addressed questions from the audience about pensions, funding for projects in Saddle Lake and employment insurance.

"The pension plan in Canada is actually in very, very good shape," said Toews in response to a question from Paul Bailey, an audience member, about how the federal government is planning to pay the unfunded liability in the pension.

Sheila Redcrow, Saddle Lake Tribal Administrator, expressed concerns about a lack of funding for First Nations Policing, housing concerns, and asked about how First Nations communities can obtain funding from the federal government to improve the energy efficiency of their homes. The current programs are based on tax credits and therefore are not available for First Nations communities.

Storseth responded to the question of policing by indicating that he has sent a letter to federal Minister of Public Safety Peter Van Loan in support of the local tri-partite agreements such as the one at Whitefish (Goodfish) Lake.

"I can tell you that there has never been a federal government that has taken the lead that our federal government has when it comes to First Nations housing," said Storseth in answer to her second question. "Not only on dollars invested but also with regard to working with CMHC and trying to see that First Nations people have the ability to eventually own their own houses."

After the meeting in St. Paul the group of federal ministers moved on to similar sessions in Bonnyville, Cold Lake and Glendon.

Town of St. Paul Coun. Trevor Kotowich, who welcomed the guests on behalf of the Town of St. Paul, said in an interview after the meeting, "It's nice to see the caliber of MPs that Brian is bringing to our area, particularly Minister Toews of the treasury board."

Something old, something new

Antique tea towels and tablecloths shared display space with just-completed quilts and quilted items at the show.

Fair visitors

Elk Point Horticultural and Craft Show and Quilt Exhibition was a great opportunity for an impromptu visit with friends.

The vehicle was observed to be driving left of centre in an erratic fashion. Cst. Bullock located the suspect vehicle as it pulled into the Tags parking lot. The driver of the vehicle displayed signs of gross intoxication and was placed under arrest. A large quantity of open alcohol was located inside the vehicle and the three passengers were tasked with pouring it out. The male provided samples of breath, which resulted in blood alcohol readings in excess of twice the legal limit. Further investigation into this matter found that the suspect vehicle had been stolen in Edmonton. An 18-year-old St. Paul male has been charged with impaired driving, operating a motor vehicle with blood alcohol level over 80 mg per cent, possession of stolen property, three failure to comply charges, along with a handful of Traffic Safety Act violations.

Playground in progress

Saturday was a day of great progress on Elk Point Elementary's new south playground. Clockwise from top left, a huge array of parts and poles became the second structure; cement is poured to hold the structures in place, Orest Sereda and Wayne Hymanyk try out the built-in tic-tac-toe game, and finally, at sun-down, the roof was set on top.
